

Norwich Castle Museum and Art Gallery

THIS IS MODERN ART!

Until September 2008

This exhibition gives an insight into the strength and diversity of the 20th century painting and sculpture into the permanent collections at Norwich Castle. Featuring works by internationally important modern artists such as René Magritte, Andy Warhol and Max Ernst.

'I would normally take Year 11 to Tate Modern but this fulfilled all needs!' – High SchoolTeacher

The museum is offering 2 workshops to support school visits to this exhibition.

Multiple Viewpoints

Working from the exhibition, pupils will discover how artists have explored multiple viewpoints as a means of recording the world around them. They will try out artists' techniques using drawing and collage to produce an abstracted 2D image.

Imagined and remembered landscapes

This landscape painting workshop will explore some of the different paint techniques used by artists in the exhibition. Pupils will have a chance to learn colour mixing and a variety of methods of applying paint to paper and board.

Sessions available for all Key Stages.

Cost: £2.50 + Admission
