

Learning in the Outside Environment

Putting the EYFS into Practice

"A rich and varied outdoor environment supports children's learning and development. It gives them the confidence to explore and learn in secure and safe, yet challenging outdoor spaces."

every child matters
a brighter future for Norfolk's young people

This training is aimed at all practitioners working with young children in early years settings. This is part of a series of courses to enable practitioners to put the new EYFS into practice. This course will explore the unique value of the outside environment in developing children's learning.

The course will explore:

- Why children need to play and learn outdoors all year round
- Ways in which practitioners can provide a stimulating and exciting outdoor learning environment as identified in the EYFS
- The role of the adult in supporting children's development and learning in the outdoor environment

- Ways to develop your own outdoor environment through action research and share this information with other participants
- Issues in providing appropriate outdoor learning opportunities

Training Provider: Constance Tyce & Helen Banks - Educational Consultants

Course Length: One day with a half day follow up session. You must attend both sessions.
