Venue: Lynnsport & Leisure Park, Kings Lynn, West Norfolk.

Times: 9.30am - 3.30pm Cost: £50 per delegate

To book a place please complete the attached Conference Booking Form

Conference Themes:

- Revitalising our approach and maximising opportunity for all learners
- Increasing coherence and impact – making a real difference to all learners
- Developing approaches to curriculum - in and through Physical Education
- Developing the curriculum – challenging false polarities
- Developing a compelling curriculum – identifying priorities

The Conference is being organised in partnership by Norfolk County Council and the King Edward VII Sports College in King's Lynn. The purpose of the event is to allow schools to reflect, review and discuss the changes and how schools are managing the changes in a practical way.

Andy Frapwell is the afPE and CfBT lead officer assisting DCSF with the dissemination of the new curriculum programme and brings with him a wealth of expertise and knowledge from other counties and schools.

This is part of our on-going support to schools in implementing the new guidance and is strongly recommended. The Conference will build upon the dissemination work that Andy has already done for Norfolk and will allow colleagues to develop a clearer understanding. Delegates will be invoiced for attendance after the event. Please note our policy of charging a £15 administration fee for non-attendance if a booking is made.
