

You are invited to a major Environmental Education and Education for Sustainable Development
Event for Teachers

Easton College Conference Centre
Monday 8th March 2004 1.30pm – 4.30pm

We are delighted to invite you to this event, which will bring together organisations from across Norfolk that are able to support you with environmental education, outdoor learning, offsite visits and resources for education for sustainable development (ESD). This event is supported by NCC's Education Advisory Services and Easton College.

- ❖ Including opportunities to participate in free workshops led by Norfolk Education Advisory Service
- ❖ Over 38 exhibition stands – a chance to discuss support for both on-site and off-site learning opportunities

Join us at any time between 1.30pm and 4.30pm – refreshments available

The exhibitors will include:

- ❖ field studies and outdoor education centres,
- ❖ farm visit providers,
- ❖ wildlife and habitat study providers,
- ❖ historical sites,
- ❖ school grounds support,
- ❖ outdoor learning/countryside resources,
- ❖ waste and energy management support

Workshops led by the Norfolk Education Advisory Service:

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 1.45 – 2.15 | Safety and off-site visits – the new documentation |
| 1.45 – 2.15 | Early years and outdoor learning |
| 2.45 – 3.15 | Geography and history at KS 3 / 4 |
| 2.45 – 3.15 | Art and creativity in the environment |
| 3.45 – 4.15 | Field studies in your grounds KS2/3 |
| 3.45 – 4.15 | Eco-schools as an ESD framework |

The Easton College Schools Barn will also be open with an exhibition of resource boxes

Further information from:

Moya Myerscough, Head of Schools Liaison, Easton College 01603 731257

Sue Falch-Lovesey, Head of Environmental Education, Norfolk County Council, 01553 766872

Admission to the event is free. Booking is not essential but to help us with planning and refreshments, we would appreciate it if you could Fax back this form to Joy Lambert on 01553 692374 or telephone 01553 766872

Please indicate which workshops you would like to attend

Name(s)(e-mail).....

School.....

Workshop title.....