

Wells Field Study Centre Late Booking Opportunities 2006 – 07

Wells Field Studies centre is ideally located within the heart of the small historic port of Wells-next-the-sea in north Norfolk, mid way between Cromer and Hunstanton within the North Norfolk Coast Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. It is special for its wildlife, buildings and cultural landscape. The centre is five minutes walk from the quay and close to a variety of habitats such as sandy beaches, salt marsh, sand dune, intertidal mudflats and pinewoods within the Holkham National Nature Reserve. River, chalk grassland, ancient woodland, historical buildings, a deer park, farms and archaeological sites are all close by and easily accessible by foot or in the centre's 17 seater minibus.

The centre was awarded Eco Centre status in 2002 , earning the prestigious Green Flag for our efforts to incorporate sustainability into our teaching, centre management, purchasing, field sites and community relations.

A residential course at Wells provides:

- Stimulating and motivating learning opportunities.
- Time to have fun together.
- Opportunities for personal and social development.
- A chance for children to 'shine' in new ways.

All programmes at Wells are tailor made to meet the individual school's learning objectives. Our planning process considers the Education Visits and Journeys Procedures and Guidance. We will support schools to plan and fulfil this safety guidance.

The following dates are currently available for residential courses (for up to 30 children) on a first come first served basis:

Mon 8th – Fri 12th January 2007

Mon 16th – Wed 18th April 2007

In addition to the above there are a few dates available for day visits in November and December 2006.
