

DYSPRAXIA FOUNDATION

Annual General Meeting 2005 & Parents Conference

A one day training and information day for parents of children with dyspraxia

Saturday, 11 June 2005

Ellen Terry Studio, Corinthian Conference Suite
Stevenage Arts & Leisure Centre, Herts

We are are pleased to offer parents, carers, teachers, support staff and anyone with an interest in dyspraxia the opportunity to attend a one day conference presented by Gill Dixon, Independent Dyspraxia and Special needs Advisor/Trainer, author of 'Dyscover yourself' , a book for children with dyspraxia and 'Making Inclusion work for children with dyspraxia'.

Following the recognition of Gill's own son's severe verbal and motor dyspraxia, along with the realisation of how poorly she understood the condition, she studied for a degree in health sciences and subsequently an MA in disability studies. Her research to date has focused on the needs of children who learn differently within a mainstream setting.

The day will start with the Dyspraxia Foundation's AGM at 10.30am followed by the conference from 11.00am to 3.15pm. Talks include:

- Education Advice for Parents - introducing parents to the Code of Practice, IEPs (Individual Education Plans) and Annual Reviews.
- Developing Self-Esteem - looking at what self-esteem, is, what affects it and what can be done about it on an individual level. Rather than focusing on the child, this session looks at the qualities desirable to promote self-esteem in those caring for children with dyspraxia.

A full day of ideas and strategies to include lunch, exhibition and the opportunity to purchase resources.

Fees: Professional £50 Parents £40
(Members of the Foundation receive 10% discount)
