

SCA Children's Appeal national art competition

Remember, there are just 5 weeks left to get in your entries for the SCA Children's Appeal national art competition!

SCA provides free education to some of Africa's most vulnerable children. Working in the Utange area, north of Mombasa in Kenya our primary school offers education, uniforms, shoes and school meals to orphans, fatherless and the very poor.

Our hope for this year is to build a desperately needed secondary school - the only one in the area. There is currently no provision for the students leaving standard 8. One way we can raise funds to build this is through our national art competition run in Britain's schools.

The competition is for children in 3 age groups - upto 7yrs / 8-10 yrs /11 yrs+ with one entry per child. The children should produce a piece of artwork (drawing/painting etc.) of an African village as they imagine it, accompanied by a £1 donation.

This competition is suitable for all ages but also ties in great with ks2 work.

The competition is open from now till July 18th and will be judged over the summer. We have some great prizes for the winners.

Please contact me so we can send you full details and entry forms at your earliest convenience. Send your entries to;

SCA Childrens' Appeal 95 Mowbray Rise, Dedridge, Livingston, EH54 6JP
