

FoodAid'05 – Harvesting for the world

Do your pupils want something unique and practical to do for this year's harvest? Then get ready to support FoodAid 2005.

FoodAid is a citizenship learning resource which aims to raise awareness of issues surrounding hunger and malnutrition around the world and encourage children to act as global citizens and raise money for those in need. Celebrating United Nations World Food Day on October 16th FoodAid also ties in well with schools' harvest festival activities.

Schools that register receive a FREE FoodAid pack containing everything they need to participate - including a CD-ROM containing citizenship lesson plans and fundraising ideas, a world hunger map, posters, stickers and lots more.

Last year, over 1000 schools throughout the UK joined forces to support FoodAid and raised over £90,000 for Concern Worldwide's food-related projects overseas - a fantastic amount. This year we hope that even more schools will take part and that together we can break a new fundraising record!
