

ASE Anglia Area Science and CPD Conference, Homerton College, Cambridge, 15 October 2005

This is ASE's fifth conference hosted by the University of Cambridge Faculty of Education at the Homerton College site. It aims to be as successful as previous events - inspiring, high quality continuing professional development at realistic prices in excellent surroundings. Good food! Good company! A friendly day out.

Come to this meeting and you will take away much that can be delivered in your classroom or laboratory as well as enhancing your development and ultimately help raise, even higher, children's motivation and understanding in science. Meet colleagues and discuss current and future concerns, there will be plenty to do all day. An extensive exhibition mounted by major publishers, manufacturers and equipment suppliers as well as organisations offering educational resources. The ASE bookstall will allow participants the opportunity to inspect and purchase the latest ASE publications at a discounted price.
