Epilepsy Action

Epilepsy Action is the leading membership organisation for the 450,000 people living with epilepsy in the UK.

Our role is to help improve life for people with epilepsy. We do this firstly by providing vital advice, information and support and secondly campaigning with government, health professionals and the public to raise awareness and promote greater understanding about epilepsy.

Neurofibromatosis

Most people have never heard of the condition neurofibromatosis and yet there are, worldwide, more people affected by the condition than there are cystic fibrosis. There are two forms of neurofibromatosis and both are complicated genetic conditions that can result in behavioural problems, disfigurement and disability.

The Neurofibromatosis Association is the only charity in the UK concerned with the welfare of those affected by either condition.
