

CRACKING THE HARD CLASS

Dr. Bill Rogers needs no introduction. Nor does his work on behaviour management, discipline, effective teaching, stress management and teacher welfare. His work is known and respected across the world for its emphasis on practical approaches and skills development. Both Bill's conference programmes and his books are firmly anchored in his action research and are the direct outcome of his work in schools in Australia and the UK.

Discipline can be the hardest part of a demanding job. On a daily basis teachers face defiance, argumentative behaviour, swearing and aggression as well as the more typical disruptive behaviours such as calling out and task avoidance.

Whether your school's challenge is 'hard classes' or several challenging pupils in what are otherwise 'average' classes, this day with the world famous Bill Rogers is a must. It provides straightforward, effective management strategies that are guaranteed to make a difference and explores the relationships between effective teaching, behaviour management, discipline and colleague support.

You will be engaged throughout the day by Bill's unique style of presentation and leave the conference with a battery of strategies that can be introduced to your team back in school and implemented straight away in your classrooms. The day will also provide you with the knowledge, skills and understanding to review your school's approach to behaviour management and to colleague support.

Early booking by February 17th 2006 can make the cost as low as £85+VAT per person - which represents amazing value for money for a day with one of the world's top experts. So why not make it a Teacher Day and let your whole school benefit!

National NQT Day, Monday May 15th
NQTS can of course join any of the other events; the programme is very similar.
However this day is solely for NQTS and teachers in their first 3 years of teaching from all over the country.
