

Norfolk and Norwich Association for the Blind (NNAB)

Access to Literacy Exhibition of Equipment

The event is being held at the NNAB Equipment and Information Centre in Magpie Road, Norwich between 1pm and 5.30pm on September 7th. The two firms with equipment on display will be Hagger Electronics and Associated Optical Products.

Hagger will show various educational toys and games suitable for children with and/or hearing difficulties including the new Talking Tactile Tablet which when used with a PC or Laptop enables the user to receive instant audio feedback from a tactile map, diagram, picture or chart. This is a very exciting, innovative new item which will extend learning opportunities for many visually impaired children, including those with additional needs.

Associated Optical sell high quality magnifiers, some of which are suitable for educational settings.

It is an opportunity to explore and play with equipment that can enhance the quality of life for children with sensory impairments.

You are very welcome to join us.
