

MACMILLAN 'BIG HUSH' SPONSORED SILENCE – JANUARY 25

We all know actions speak louder than words, so how about getting a bit of peace and quiet whilst raising money to support people affected by cancer?

The Eastern Daily Press is currently backing Macmillan Cancer Support by promoting its 'Big Hush' sponsored silence for schools – and would like you to join them to make it their most successful year yet.

As part of Cancertalk Week, The Big Hush is a great way to raise both money and cancer awareness. Macmillan works to improve the lives of people affected by cancer by providing practical, medical, emotional and financial support – and every penny you raise will help them do this.

Join the next Big Hush on Friday 25 January 2008. Registration is easy and you can sign up anyone from a small group to the whole school.

For further information on The Big Hush and details of free Cancertalk teaching packs call Macmillan Cancer Support on 0845 601 1716 or log on to www.macmillan.org.uk/bighush.