

Plastic Bag Free Day - Norwich

On Friday 28th March 2008, Norwich Carbon Reduction Trust is promoting a 'plastic bag free day' in Norwich and we hope that you are able to support us. We are asking all shopkeepers not to issue new plastic carriers that day, to promote re-usable bags or at the very least ask the customer if they need another bag. We all have to start somewhere with reducing the number of plastic bags that end up in landfill sites and in our rivers and seas. We hope Friday 28th March will make people think – please help us and do it every day that you can.

In the week leading up to this, the Eastern Daily Press will be promoting various tips that we can all follow to reduce carbon emissions and on Saturday 29th March, Norwich will be joining in the Global Earth Hour between 8 and 9 pm. This asks all of us, wherever we are, to turn off non-essential lights for an hour, save energy and reflect on what we can do to make changes within our everyday lives – do join in.

Please display the poster below to show your support and spread awareness of the day.

Thank you.
