

Funky Footwear Friday

As part of Air Ambulance Week 2008, 22nd – 28th September, the East Anglian Air Ambulance is inviting you to join our Funky Footwear Friday campaign!

Funky Footwear Friday takes place on Friday 26th September 2008 and is your opportunity to support your local Air Ambulance charity whilst having fun.

To take part, just follow these four funky steps:

1. Open your wardrobe and select your funkiest shoes, they could be odd shoes, have colourful laces, a pair of wellington boots...Anything!!
2. Put them on your feet
3. Wear them to school, college or work
4. Make a suggested donation of £1 to East Anglian Air Ambulance

Do your staff or pupils have to wear a uniform?

NO PROBLEM!! - They can still wear their full uniform, only their shoes would be funky.

Funky Footwear Friday is a fun and unique way to raise money for your local Air Ambulance. To register your workplace or school simply complete the registration form and return it to East Anglian Air Ambulance, Freepost EAAA, Norwich or email all your information to footwear@eaaa.org.uk. You will then receive a Funky Fundraising Pack.

It costs £3 million a year to keep the East Anglian Air Ambulance flying in the skies of Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire, Norfolk and Suffolk. With no financial support from the Government, National Lottery or NHS every penny has to be raised through voluntary donations from individuals, schools, businesses, clubs, groups and companies, just like yours.

By registering for Funky Footwear Friday you can help ensure the East Anglian Air Ambulance can continue to be available to every person living, working and traveling, through our counties every day, should they ever need us.

If you would prefer to raise funds on our behalf in a different way we would love to hear from you!
