

eSafety and Cyberbullying – Raising Parent Awareness of Keeping Children/Young People Safe

15th September 2009 1 – 4 pm
Thorpe High School

Concerns about the safety of young people using electronic communications, such as BEBO, chat rooms, mobile phones, etc. are constantly in the news. Parents often feel unable to guide their children on how to stay safe and are looking to schools for help.

This session will raise your awareness of some of the e-safety issues facing young people and the kinds of support parents can give them to help them stay safe. The aim is help you feel able to run a guidance session for parents in the schools you work with.

The afternoon session will be an opportunity to discuss how you could run an evening for parents and will be run by Kathy Olsson, E2BN, Rita Adair, Senior Educational Psychologist and Pip Cartwright, ICT Adviser. This will be followed by a chance to observe a real evening session run for parents with a cluster of schools by experienced facilitators. This will be on 15th September 6.30 – 8 pm at Hillside Avenue Primary, Norwich.

Training is free and would be relevant to the following people:

Extended School Co-ordinators	Parent Support Advisers
Parent Partnership	School staff
Anyone else interested in training parents in eSafety
