Community Cohesion and Learning to be Safe Together Toolkit for Schools

(to support the Preventing Violent Extremism agenda)

Date: Friday 16th October 2009

Venue: Putteridge Bury Conference Centre,
Hitchin Road, Luton LU2 8LE

Time: 9.30 am registration for a 10.00 am start
– 3.30pm

This conference is a chance for practitioners across the region to come together to support each other and look at some of the challenges PVE (Preventing Violent Extremism) presents for schools and communities.

The Learning to be Safe Together toolkit supports local partners in their work with children and young people in schools to prevent violent extremism.

Past experience suggests that a security response is not enough, and that we need to address the underlying causes to prevent people from being drawn into violent extremism.

There will be an opportunity to:

- Learn more of the national context for this work.
- A chance to look more closely at the toolkit "Learning together to be safe" to support schools.
- Examine approaches to tackling and preventing radicalisation amongst young people.
- A chance to share projects and programmes that deliver real outcomes to communities.
- To explore the relationship between community cohesion and PVE.
- To look at how theatre in education can facilitate an important dialogue among students.

Places are limited and will be offered on a first-come basis. To reserve a place please complete the attached booking form and return by 30th September 2009. There is no charge for attending this Conference.
