

Just Imagine!

Just Imagine, a Children's Services arts initiative in partnership with the BBC has ten free places for Norfolk schools to take part in a green screen initiative that supports engagement with the London 2012 Games.

We have created a virtual stadium that will make it seem as if Norfolk pupils are participating in the Olympic Games.

DVDs of pupils' participation will be made and the BBC will visit to make a mini news item about your school's plans for 2012.

Up to 100 pupils per school/setting can be involved, and school staff are also encouraged to make their pledges!

We are celebrating the power of the imagination to support achievement and aspiration.

All you need to do to have a chance of being selected is to register your school with the London 2012 Games education programme, Get Set. Ten Norfolk schools will be randomly selected from those that have registered with Get Set at the end of September, October and November.

Visit: www.london2012.com/getset to register your school now.

For more information contact:

Anna McCarthy
Arts Project Development Officer
anna.mccarthy@norfolk.gov.uk
Tel: 01603 638099