Funding

The Young Film Fund's Script Grant

The Young Film Fund's Script Grant, administered by First Light, gives organisations the opportunity to run inspiring filmmaking projects for young people aged 5 to 19 by funding the initial idea stage. This grant scheme aims to support collaborative work between young people and script professionals in order to produce quality short film scripts. It is imperative that young people are central to this process and are afforded the opportunity to develop their skills and confidence. The maximum grant available is £3,000.

Preference will be given to projects with a clear and effective approach to partnership work and a development process that will involve and inspire the young people participating. Films may cover a range of topics, including those most relevant to young people. The most common themes are drugs and alcohol, pregnancy, bullying, identity and asylum. As a result, any proposals based on these themes will need to demonstrate an innovative approach in order to increase their chances of selection.

The proposed programme should aim to encourage children and young people to eventually make music outside of school hours.
